Several of Mansfield's prominent citizens have requested that a daily be published the week of the agricultural and stock show and the G. A. R. reunion. Such a paper would, of course, be of great advantage. Daily announcements concerning the fair and reunion would appear in its columns; our visitors would see that Mansfield is wide awake and progressive, for a daily is found in no towns closer than Springfield and West Plains. Should such a paper be published, it would be distributed free. Hence the only source of revenue would be from the advertising. If the Mansfield merchants will see us and indicate what advertising they desire we shall be glad to figure on the proposition. If enough advertising is not in sight, the daily will not be attempted. Call at the Mirror office and express yourself.
